2016 STEFANI ESTATE THE VIEW
YARRA VALLEY VINEYARD CHARDONNAY

RRP $69 / 2024

It puts on a beautiful show. It's ready to drink now, but it has the intensity, length and lines of acidity to have it mature well over the next handful of years. It tastes of peach, lactose, honeycomb and vanilla cream, though everything feels measured, balanced and right. Apart from anything else, it's quite delicious. CM 13.5% alc.

What's your favourite way to enjoy this wine over the cooler months?

I would enjoy this wine through the winter months with 12-hour slow-cooked smoky barbecue ribs. It's not a traditional matching dish, however the fine line of acidity cuts through the fatty pork. Also, the oak and smoke are a marriage made in heaven, and let's face it, when isn't it a good time to eat barbecued ribs? The wine has defined crisp acidity with mineral notes and great texture, enabling it to match with most dishes.
